

LNH ACTION ASSIGNMENT

Education

Web and Reading Assignments: (Since this is the only assignment we expect you will spend between one to two hours reading these links and articles)

NH Department of Education

- Go to the DOE website: www.ed.state.nh.us/education/
- Please browse the entire site to see what the State is doing.

Claremont Schools

Go to their website: www.claremont.k12.nh.us

NH School Profiles

Click on this site to see New Hampshire's School Profiles – demographic, assessment and financial data for every district. Look at your community's data as it compares to other communities.

Be certain to review the profiles for the Claremont Schools.

<http://www.measuredprogress.org/nhprofile/>

NH School Funding

Surfers will find reports written the Center for Public Policy Studies on their website. Go to www.nhpolicy.org. From their homepage, in the right hand column, click on Education. Read the reports of interest to you.

Current Happenings in NH's Education Debate

On the LNH website, we have placed three documents for you to read. Click on "Calendar," on "Education," then on Action Assignment to access the articles.

Joint Legislative Task Force on Adequacy – Final Report

Final Report and Findings of the Joint Legislative Oversight Committee on Costing an Adequate Education

Fund the Gap – The Citizens Voice Project

No Child Left Behind

Here are a number of resources to help you familiarize with NCLB, a very significant piece of federal legislation impacting schools in NH and across the nation.

The first is a link to the US Department of Education. The second is a link to the White House with an introductory piece by President Bush.

We also encourage you to "google" the words "no child left behind" and find articles of interest to you.

<http://www.ed.gov/nclb/>

<http://www.whitehouse.gov/news/reports/no-child-left-behind.html>